Key words: Tourism, Development, Economy, Employment, Problems and Suggestions

Introduction:

Tourism sector is one of the emerging service sectors of the Indian economy. According to economic survey 2020-21, tourism is a major engine of economic growth that contributes significantly in terms of GDP, foreign exchange earnings, and employment. However, the COVID-19 pandemic had a debilitating impact on world travel and tourism, including India. As per the world tourism barometer of the united nations world tourism organisation by 72 percent globally over the first ten months of 2020, with restricted on travel, low consumer confidence and a global struggle to contain the COVID-19 virus, all contributing to the worst year on record in the history of tourism. World destinations received 900 million fewer international tourists between January-October when compared with the same period of 2019, translating into a loss of US$ billion in export revenues from international tourism. Note that International Tourist Arrivals (ITA) had reached a total of 1.5 billion in 2019. Similarly, the tourism sector in India had been performing well with Foreign Tourist Arrivals (FTAs) growing at 14 percent to 10.04 million and Foreign Exchange Earnings (FEEs) at 19.1 percent to US$ 27.31 billion in 2017. However, the sector underwent a slowdown in 2018 and 2019 before declining sharply in 2020. The Foreign Tourist Arrivals (FTAs) in 2019 stood at 10.93 million compared to 10.56 million in 2018. In terms of growth, the growth rate of FTAs declined from 14 percent in 2017 to 5.2 percent in 2018 and further to 3.5 percent in 2019. Foreign Exchange Earnings (FEEs) from tourism stood at US$ 30.06 billion in 2019 as compared to US$ 28.59 billion in 2018. In terms of growth, the FEEs decline from 19.1 percent in 2017 to 4.7 percent in 2018, picking up slightly to 5.1 percent in 2019 (Economic Survey 2020-21).

Karnataka has seen immense growth in domestic tourist visits, growing from 36.7 million in 2006 to 229.93 million in 2019. Karnataka attracts approximately 9.8 percent of overall domestic tourist visits in India, placing at fourth place among Indian states. Karnataka also saw over 6.08 lakhs foreign tourist arrivals in 2019 with Bangalore ranking 5th among international check posts of India for foreign tourist arrivals. Karnataka offers a multitude of tourism opportunities, living up to the promise of its brand “One State, Many Worlds”. The states pleasant climate, cosmopolitan culture and highly responsive administration make Karnataka an excellent destination for businesses to set up and flourish. The state’s tourism destinations encompass a wealth of tourism products across a range of themes including heritage, culture, ecotourism, spiritual, adventure, coastal, wellness, rural and urban (Economic Survey of Karnataka 2020-21).

Objectives
- To know the current status of tourism development in Karnataka and India;
- To identify the various important tourist spots and level of visitors to Karnataka;
- To identify the problems and to suggest remedial measures for the development of tourism in Karnataka;

Methodology
The present study is based on secondary data, which is collected from reports of department of tourism, government of Karnataka, articles and thesis on development of tourism, books and various journals.

Review of Literature
Manoj Edward et.al (2008) studied that, the context and framework for assessing destination attractiveness of Kerala, an emerging tourism destination in India. This study is helpful for tourism decision makers in the public and private sectors to understand the potential and development strategies of tourism in Kerala. Its findings will provide inputs for planning, marketing and developing appropriate resource allocation strategies. This paper gives a glance into the development and prospects of tourism in the state of Kerala. It could be conclude that, Kerala Government should taken initial step to tourism development such as leading international travel firms and agencies, formulating comprehensive tourism policy, guiding and setting long term vision and goals for the tourism sector growth.

Mudasir Majid Malik et.al (2014) analysed that, the changes in number of tourist arrival from 1997-2012, increase in economic growth and the development of tourism as researchers focussed on foreign tourist arrivals, it is find out that India witnessed a grand total of 6.58 million foreign tourist arrivals with annual growth rate of 4.3% in 2012 it is the second largest foreign exchange earner in India recording estimated earnings of 94487 crore in 2011-2012. With world tourist arrivals expected to increase by 43 million every year on an average from 2010-2030, the domestic tourism is also a major factor which is contributing to the growth in tourism sector. The authors conclude that, Indian government by levying high luxury taxes on hotel and ensure greater cleanliness and safety for tourists it can help in giving a big boost to tourism sector.

Sultan Singh Jaswal (2014) discussed that, how India is emerging as a popular tourist destination in the world. It aimed change the attitude and behaviour toward foreign tourists by stressing on the aspect that a guest has been held in high esteem in India since ancient times. It also examines the impact of India’s economic growth on tourism, contributors to economic growth, role of tourism industry in India’s GDP (Gross Domestic Product), foreign versus domestic tourists. This study also explores that there has been a tremendous growth in tourism in India because of the policies of the government and support from all levels. However, the author concludes that, the central and state governments, non-public sector and voluntary organizations ought to become active partners in improve the tourism development.

Nakajo Akihito (2017) studied that, the regional characteristics of the development of tourism accompanying economic growth in India and the tourist industry using development in the Kumaon region of Uttarakhand as author focussed on the development of hillside summer retreats in region with beautiful lakeside scenery and views of year round snow of the Himalayan Mountains, Hindu pilgrimage sites and so on. And the author find out that, the state government should promote the place of accommodation in order to facilitate tourism development. Finally the author concludes that Uttarakhand government should build accommodation facilities in tourist place, it will help to tourism development of Uttarakhand.

Present Scenario of Tourism in India

The Indian tourism sector is one of the largest service industries in the country in terms of its contribution to the Gross Domestic Product (GDP) and Foreign Exchange Earnings, as well as for providing employment to millions. The sector in fact is expected to generate around US$ 42.8 billion (INR 1897.7 billion) by 2017, according to an industry research (A Anand Kumar et.al 2014). The amount of Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) inflow into the hotel and tourism sector during April 2000 to June was worth US$ 13 billion. Foreign Tourist Arrivals (FTAs) during 2018 stood at 10.56 million, achieving a growth rate of 5.20 percent year on year. FTAs in January 2019 stood at 1.10 million, up 5.30 percent compared to 1.05 million year on year. (FDI Finance Sector Tourism and Hospitality 2021), Tourism is one of the economic sector in India that has the potential to grow at a high rate and ensure consequential development of the infrastructure at the destinations. It has the capacity to capitalize on the country’s success in the services sector and provide sustainable models of growth. The travel and tourism sector in India accounted for 8 percent of the total employment opportunities generated in the country in 2017, providing employment to around 41.6 million people during same year international hotel chains are increasing their presence in the country, as it will account for around 47 percent share in the tourism and hospitality sector of India by 2020 and 50 percent by 2022.

Tourism Development Strategies of Karnataka
Development Strategies
❖ Karnataka’s tourism development strategy should focus on the following priorities:
❖ The management and implementation of the tourism master plan.
❖ Promoting travel in Karnataka and establishing Karnataka’s position as a world-class tourism destination while retaining its distinctive identity.
❖ The restoration and preservation of tourism attractions and the promotion of eco-tourism.
❖ Promoting repeat visits and educational trips.
❖ Raising Karnataka’s profile and showcasing the state as a global destination.
❖ Increasing visitor arrivals and positioning Karnataka as a hub for meetings, conventions and exhibitions.

Marketing Strategies
For increasing the tourist inflow aggressive marketing strategies will be adopted to publicize the tourist potential of Karnataka both nationally and internationally. Some of the main features of this strategy are as follows:
❖ Opening of tourist information centers in other states.
❖ Appointment of marketing agents throughout the country and also abroad.
❖ Advertisement blitzkrieg in print and electronic media.
❖ Published of high quality literature in Indian and foreign languages.
❖ Screening of documentaries in theatres, railways stations, airprts, bustermimi etc
❖ The government will gradually assume the role of a catalyst/facilitator and involve the private sector in restoring the prime position occupied by the state in tourism earlier.
❖ Other strategies include; attract visitors from new markets; generate longer stays; increase... the expenditure of each visitor; extent the tourism season; and attract special interest tourists.

Problems
❖ Lack of master plan
❖ Encroachment by the local people and lack of clear defined boundaries by the government
❖ Lack of information for tourists
❖ Lack of basic hygienic facilities at tourist destination
❖ Lack of sound marketing strategy
❖ Environmental pollution
❖ Lack of professional trained tourist guides
❖ Poor administration and management
❖ Challenges in planning, regulating and implementing regulations in the built environment of protected monuments

Suggestions
❖ Tourism Department should act as a nodal agency for co-ordinating with various other States and Central departments in order to promote the state and to provide better infrastructure.
❖ A single window clearance of tourism projects with a transparent process should be evolved.
❖ The dual reporting structure should be removed and the tourism heads at the district level should be at helm of affairs in their location. The role of the District Collector in Tourism needs to be re-examined.
❖ More budgetary support to the department should be provided by the state government
❖ Additional assistance from Central Government should be sought for developing mega tourism projects envisaged for the state
❖ Awareness should be created among the locals on the earning potential/employment opportunity on account of tourism, thereby changing the closed and conservative mindset of the people
❖ A tourism university can be developed with Mysore /Bangalore and the state should take the lead role in developing tourism professionals.
❖ The role of private entrepreneurs in Tourism promotion and in implementing projects should be recognised and a Public-Private Tourism model should be evolved.
❖ The Government should focus its efforts in promotion of the State abroad and in other States and act as a facilitator by limiting itself to providing infrastructure support.

Conclusion:
To conclude, as per the observation Indian tourism has vast potential for generating employment and earning large sums of foreign exchange besides giving a flip to the country’s overall economic and social development. Karnataka, especially its coastal areas are unique and priceless treasure of India with tourism point of view. The government should assure this growth by adopting strategies to enhance private sector participation in tourism, as well as take advantage of resources available through the IT industry. Likewise, the state government should provide proper basic services and the academic environment for the proper training of tourism operators. With regard to tourism development, the state has assumed the high status in order to attract the maximum tourists a large number of tourism development activities is rapidly taking place because of the strategic location of its tourist destinations. Karnataka tourism will work hard to achieve the objective of to make Karnataka one among the top states of India in terms of domestic and international tourist visits. Based on the analysis of the tourism potential of Karnataka it could be conclude that the state has rich tourism resources for the tourists visiting in this state.
